

Simple talking solutions for people with sight loss

Do you or someone you know struggle to use conventional mobile phones because of sight loss or another disability?

Imagine technology being a bridge instead of a barrier.

What if there was a mobile phone that could make it easier to stay in touch with loved ones and reconnect with the world around you?

Welcome to RealSAM

We specialise in the development of innovative voice-operated smartphones, that are built from the ground up to be accessible. RealSAM mobile phones are powered by our award-winning Ai, that has been making it easier for people to use modern technology in the UK, the US and Australia, since 2017.

This breakthrough technology enables people to take control of our devices with their voice using a 'tap to talk' button. Simply tap the talk button and ask RealSAM for help using natural language.

We are the assistive technology brand of RealThing Ai, and our mission is to deliver friendly and easy to use voice operated solutions, that bring independence for people living with sight loss and other disabilities.

“ What our customers say

“My Mum has Macular Degeneration and was really struggling to see her normal mobile phone. My mum’s phone is a bit of a lifeline to her and so we bought a fantastic voice-activated phone from RealSAM.

I can’t recommend this product enough. The customer service is unbelievably good. Everyone is so helpful, especially Rob, and everyone I’ve spoken to there just can’t do enough for you. From putting numbers in, to getting accounts set up, to helping with how she uses it. It has just been a fantastic purchase and I can thoroughly recommend this.” Gill and Nicky
